AUTUMN COLOURS

A new Fall Term is always ushered in with a flurry of colour. Blue predominated with the return of the school jacket for all grades. Various alternatives were tried (see right, above) but the traditional jacket won hands down. Red was the colour of Mr. Monahan's face when his wife surprised him with a Birthday singing telegram. The colour of summer sunshine continued to draw its devotees well into November. A slight flush is the colour of a cross-country runner but it's a healthy glow especially manifest in Mr. McDougall, Mr. Pagano and Fr. Hibberd.

JOHANNES REUCHLIN AND THE TALMUD

Written by Canadian playwright, Basya Hunter was admirably performed by Michael McManus, Stefan Bilaniuk, Peter Federico, Catherine Meechan, John De Pinto, Jack Golabek, Leo Filipovic, Kevin Donivan, John Hayes, Richard Bochenek, Joseph Mandarino. Technical and Construction assistants: Luigi Martino, Paul Alcamo, Peter Nero, Chris Bingham, Dave Mercer, Frank Caravaggio, Joe Gisini, Sally Heit, Jenny Anzin, Yvonne Hibbeln, Maureen Malone, Mary Ellen Watson, Clare Meechan, Paul Naccarato, Marianne Armstrong, Cara Strumborg, Dave Pellettier. The play was directed by Fr. R. McKinnon, Dr. M. Higgins and Mr. M. Story.

WORSHIPING TOGETHER

One of the many opportunities for Christian worship afforded the St. Michael's community is the Basilian Fathers' Birthday. Basilians, staff and students gather after school to celebrate this important date for the school.

THE CLASS OF '80

Raffaele Annetta

There is nothing so insupportable to man as complete repose, without passion, occupation, amusement, care. Then it is that he feels his nothingness, his isolation, his insufficiency, his dependence, his inportance, his emptiness.
Pascal

Joseph Arnone

Peter Balaban

For it is the part of a truly great man not merely to be equal to great things, but also to make little things great by his own power.
St. Basil

Christopher Balawejder

Adam Bialczyk

He who stays not in his littleness loses his greatness.
St. Francis de Sales.

Antonio Bianchi

John Brooks

For so it is with all greatness, that, because it is great, it cannot be comprehended by ordinary minds at once; but time, and distance, and contemplation are necessary for its being recognized by beholders.
Cardinal Newman.

Fred Brown

William Barrett

The thing from which the world suffers just now more than from any other evil is not the assertions of falsehoods, but the endless and irrepressible repetition of half-truths.
G.K. Chesterton.

Damir Benko

Walter Bickford

No one is really happy merely because he has what he wants, but only if he wants things he ought to want.
St. Augustine.

Stefan Bilaniuk

Wayne Brown

The past and present are only our means; the future is always our end. Thus we never really live, but only hope to live. Always looking forward to being happy, it is inevitable that we should never be so.
Pascal.

Nicodemo Bruzzese

Roy Bucciol

Happiness is a mystery like religion, and should never be rationalized.
G.K. Chesterton.

Tony Butera

Tony Cammareri

The false optimism, the modern happiness, tires us because it tells us we fit into this world. The true happiness is that we don't fit. We come from somewhere else. We have lost our way.
G.K. Chesterton.

Filippo Capuano

Ted Chmielewski

And the heart that is soonest awake to the flowers, is always the first to be touched by the thorns.
Thomas More.

Thomas Clune

Mario Buzdon

No one is so rich that he does not need another's help; no one is so poor as not to be useful in some way to his fellow man; and the disposition to ask assistance from others with confidence and to grant it with kindness, is part of our very nature.
Pope Leo XIII.

Peter Callaghan

Edward Cattana

Christian heroism has not the same sources as heroism of other kinds. It has its source in the heart of a God scourged and turned to scorn and crucified outside the city gate.
J. Maritain.

Mario Chiarelli

Joseph Conforti

Personal experience proves the lesson of history, that what religion needs is not so much holy states of life as holy men and women.
Isaac T. Hecker.

Mike Cormier

John DeCoteau

Nothing is more suspicious, in a man who seems holy, than an impatient desire to reform other men.
Thomas Merton.

Ferdinando DeFrancesco

Gianni Della Mora

He that complains or murmurs is not perfect, nor is he even a good Christian.
St. John of the Cross.

Donato DiCosmo

Gregory Donaghy

O honorable conscience, clear and chaste,
How small a fault stings thee to bitter smart!
Dante.

Paul Dowsett

Wayne Deighton

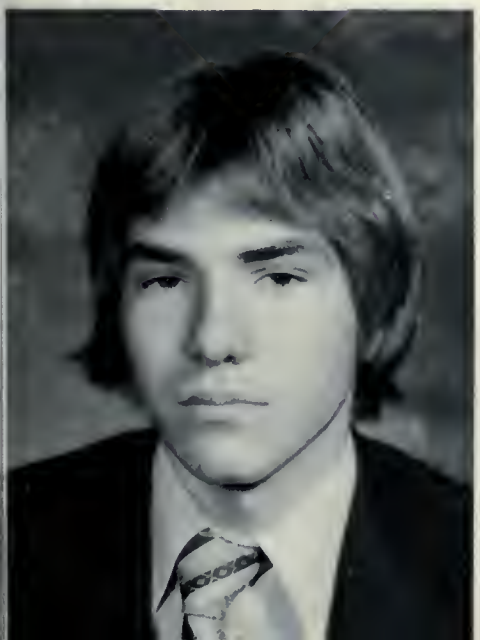
Conscience does not repose on itself, but vaguely reaches forward to something beyond self, and dimly discerns a sanction higher than self for its decisions, as is evidenced in that keen sense of obligation and responsiblity which informs them.
Cardinal Newman.

David DelBrocco

Salvatore DiMichele

When men understand each other's meaning, they see, for the most part, that controversy is either superfluous or hopeless.
Cardinal Newman.

Frank DiNino



John Dybczak

We are not our own, any more than what we possess is our own. We did not make ourselves; we cannot be suprememover ourselves. We cannot be our own masters. We are God's property by creation, by redemption, by regeneration.
Cardinal Newman.

Dennis Endrizzi

Steven Engyel

A man is perfectly entitled to laugh at a thing because he happens to find it incomprehensible. What he has no right to do is to laugh at it as incomprehensible, and then criticize it as if he comprehended it.
G.K. Chesterton.

Salvatore Evangelista

Peter Federico

If a writer is so cautious that he never writes anything that cannot be criticized, he will never write anything that can be read. If you want to help other people you have got to make up your mind to write things that some men will condemn.
Thomas Merton.

Mark Ferraro

Robert Francescutto

That Christianity is identical with democracy, is the hardest of gospels; there is nothing that so strikes men with fear as the saying that they are all sons of God.
G.K. Chesterton.

Marco Franzoi

Frank Faieta

Democracy means government by the uneducated, while aristocracy means government by the badly educated.
G.K. Chesterton.

Gregory Farrugia

Michael Finan

True democracy cannot exist and thrive except in an atmosphere of respect for God and an observance of His commandments, as well as for the Christian solidarity of brotherhood.
Pope Pius XII.

Paul Fornasier

Bernard Frith

Recreations are not education; accomplishments are not education. Do not say, the people must be educated, when after all you only mean amused, refreshed, soothed, put into good spirits and good humour, or kept from vicious excesses. I do not say that such amusements, such occupations of mind, are not a great gain; but they are not education.
Cardinal Newman.

Bruno Fullone

Giuseppe Gagliardi

In educating the young it is not sufficient that religious instruction be given to them at fixed times; it is necessary also that every subject that is taught to them be permeated with Christian piety. If this is wanting, little good can be expected from any kind of learning.
Pope Leo XIII.

Vince Gardner

Mark Gaynor

Take away all evil, and much good would go with it. God's care is to bring good out of evils which happen, not to abolish them.
St. Thomas Aquinas.

Matteo Giuliano

Stephen Gray

The evolutionists seem to know everything about the missing link except the fact that it is missing.
G.K. Chesterton.

Andrew Griffin

Dominic Garisto

Faith is the substance of things hoped, and proof of things invisible to mortal sight.
Dante.

Richard Gawel

Richard Gleasure

Sometimes faith is far more beautiful unadorned, and it is quite possible to crush a delicate and browing faith with a weight of learned arguments intended to adorn and perfect it.
R.H. Benson.

Christopher Gray

Bruno Guerriero

Ultimately faith is the only key to the universe. The final meaning of human existence, and the answers to the questions on which all our happiness depends cannot be found in any other way.
Thomas Merton

Joseph Guzara

Paul Gyulay

If we surrender everything to reason, our religion will lose all mystery and the supernatural. If we offend against the principles of reason, our religion will be absurd and ridiculous.
Pascal.

Frank Hannan

Ronald Hrab

What men call fame is, after all, but a very windy thing. A man thinks that many are praising him, and talking of him alone, and yet they spend but a very small part of the day thinking of him, being occupied with things of their own.
S. Thomas More.

Paul Hupka

John Jamnik

The family is more sacred than the state, and men are begotten not for the earth and for time, but for heaven and eternity.
Pope Pius XI.

Gregory Knap

Adam Hawkins

The union of the family lies in love; and love is the only reconcilation of authority and liberty.
R.H. Benson.

Gregory Hook

Jim Hurley

At the root of all war is fear: not so much the fear men have of one another as the fear they have of everything. It is not merely that they do not trust one another: they do not even trust themselves. If they are not sure when someone else may turn around and kill them, they are still less sure when they may turn around and kill themselves. They cannot trust anything, because they have ceased to believe in God.
Thomas Merton.

Richard Indris

Alexander Komarnycky

It is a fundamental human right, a privilege of nature, that every man should worship according to his own convictions: one man's religion neither harms nor helps another man. It is certainly no part of religion to compel religion.
Tertullian.

Joseph Kosichek

Mark Kraczynski

For herein especially does a friend differ from a flatterer; the flatterer speaks to give pleasure, but the friend refrains from nothing, even that which gives pain.
St. Basil.

Benjamin Krasna

George Lauretti

Great geniuses have their empire, their renown, their greatness, their victory and their lustre, and have no need of material grandeurs, with which they have no relation. They are not seen with the eyes, but with the mind; that is enough.
Pascal.

Martin Lavergne

Scott Magder

To say that a man is an idealist is merely to say that he is a man. There is only one startling thing to be done with the ideal, and that is to do it.
G.K. Chesterton.

David Mahoney

Shayne Kukulowicz

Whereas knowledge and action make a man happy, as in knowledge error must be guarded against, so must wickedness be avoided in action. Now whosoever supposes that he can know truth while he is living iniquitously, is in error.
St. Augustine.

Frank LaManna

Kenneth Lee

A scrap of knowledge about sublime things is worth more than any amount about trivialities.
St. Thomas Aquinas

Agostino Liotta

Andre Maraldo

That only is true enlargement of mind which is the power of viewing many things at once as one whole or referring them severally to their true place in the universal system, of understanding their respective values, and determining their mutual dependence.
Cardinal Newman.

Antonio Mariani

Gregory Masterson

We must return again and again to the simple doctrine: physical labour, manual work, is not in itself bad. It is the necessary basis of all human production and, and in the most strict sense of the words, physical labour directed to the things needed for human life is both honourable and holy.
Eric Gill

Stephen McCabe

Shawn Meehan

The idea of liberty has ultimately a religious root; that is why men find it so easy to die for and so difficult to define. It refers finally to the fact that, while the oyster and the palm tree have to save their lives by law, man has to save his soul by choice.
G.K. Chesterton.

Louie Menezes

Rossano Morelli

Literature always anticipates life. It does not copy it, but moulds it to its purpose.
Oscar Wilde.

David Morin

Kevin McDonnell

Man is not worthy of God; but he is not incapable of being made worthy of him.
Pascal.

Thomas McNulty

Romeo Milano

Man is an epitome of the world; he is a little world in himself, in which all that is to be found in the great world of the universe is to be found.
St. Francis de Sales.

Yoshiaki Mogi

Mario Morra

Man is an exception, whatever else he is. If he is not the image of God, then he is a disease of the dust. If it is not true that a divine being fell, then we can only say that one of the animals went entirely off his head.
G.K. Chesterton.

Rudy Morrone

Robert Niccoli

To be merely modern is to condemn oneself to an ultimate narrowness; Just as to spend one's last earthly money on the newest hat is to condemn oneself to the old-fashioned. The road of the ancient centuries is strewn with dead moderns.
G.K. Chesterton.

Paul O'Brien

David Pellettier

If you have money, consider that perhaps the only reason God allowed it to fall into your hands was in order that you might find joy and perfection by throwing it away.
Thomas Merton.

John Pidkowich

Bruno Pitoscia

To most men argument makes the point at hand only more doubtful, and considerably less impressive. After all, man is not merely a reasoning animal; he is a seeing, feeling, contemplating, acting animal.
Cardinal Newman.

Arthur Plank

Mark O'Connor

A man who is religious, is religious morning, noon, and night; his religion is a certain character, a mould in which his thoughts, words, and actions are cast, all forming parts of one and the same whole.
Cardinal Newman.

Jerry Paterna

Tiziano Pietrobon

Religion is the sense of ultimate reality, of whatever meaning a man finds in his own existence or the existence of anything else.
G.K. Chersterton.

Michael Pikul

Darko Poletto

Religion and art are older than agriculture and industry. In the beginning was the word, and man was a seer and an artist before he was producer.
C. Dawson.

Andrea Porko

Dominic Pullano

Sport is necessary for some natures. After all, the killing of creatures is necessary for man's food, and sport . . . is a survival of man's delight in obtaining food, and it requires certain noble qualities of endurance and skill.
R.H. Benson.

Daniel Reszczynski

Walter Russo

What end do men pursue with so vast and diffused an activity as sport? It is the use, the development, the control - by means of man and for the service of man - of the energies enclosed within the body; the joy which comes from this power and action, is not unlike that which the artist experiences when he is using, and is master of, his instrument.
Pope Pius XII.

Gino Saccone

John Savaglio

Talents are distributed unevenly, it is true; to one ten, and to another five; but each has one pound, all alike.
R.H. Benson.

George Schneider

David Rose

By space the universe embraces me and swallows me up like an atom, by thought I embrace the universe.
Pascal.

Mirus Rupik

Daniel Sanelli

The modern world with its modern movements is living on its Christian capital. It is using, and using up, the truths that remain to it out of the treasury of Christendom; including, of course, many truths known to pagan antiquity by crystallized in Christendom.
G.K. Chesterton.

John Santos

John Sexton

Too much noise deafens us; too much light dazzles us; too much distance or too much proximity impedes vision; too much length or too much brevity of discourse obsures it; too much truth astonishes us.
Pascal.

William Spence

Gregory Storus

It is better to remain silent than speak the truth ill-humouredly, and so spoil an excellent dish by covering it with bad sauce.
J.P. Camus.

Paul Sylvester

Ian Temple

This seems to me the only real safeguard of life; that the mind, by the life-giving power of the spirit, be illuminated for the acquisition of knowledge and be inspired with the love of honour and zeal for virtue.
John of Salisbury

Edward Tomes

Frank Venturo

Some of the most virtuous men in the world are also the bitterest and most unhappy, because they have unconsciously come to believe that all their happiness depends on their being more virtuous than other men.
Thomas Merton.

Thomas Vesz

Steve Taray

The bread that you store up belongs to the hungry; the cloak that lies in your chest belongs to the naked; and the gold you have hidden in the ground belongs to the poor.
St. Basil.

Helder Teles

Christopher Tysiaczny

Justice requires that all men acknowledge and defend the sacrosanct rights of human freedom and human dignity, and that the infinite wealth resources with which God has endowed the whole of the earth, shall be distributed, in conformity with right reason, for the use of all His children.
Pope Pius XII.

Michael Van Leeuwen

Eugene Woloschuk

There are three theories of power and therefore of authority, to wit: the robber theory that all power is for mastery; the hireling theory that all power is for wealth; the good shepherd theory that all power is for service.
V. McNabb.

FOOTBALL ACTION

SENIOR FOOTBALL: Our team had totals of six wins and four losses putting them in second place for the season. St. Mike's lost 22-20 in the Finals to Michael Power. Most valuable player was Greg Knap, Middle Linebacker.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL: The team finished in second place and was in the Finals in the T.D.C.A.A. for the first time since 1972. The team combined strong offence averaging 23 pts. per game and a stubborn defence which yielded an average of 5 pts. against per game. Joe Pullano was voted the most valuable player.

BANTAM FOOTBALL: The team was tied for second place but was awarded third place on the basis of points. The team suffered only one loss during the regular season to the eventual champs. Mike Zahra was awarded the most valuable player award.

HOCKEY ACTION

ST. MICHAEL'S BUZZERS: This year the team proved itself as League Champion during the regular season, Central Division Champion, but had an unfortunate loss to Belleville in the Metro Jr. B League's Finals. Michael Pikul, Team Captain, was voted Most Valuable Player with 27 Goals and 47 Assists.

SENIOR SCHOOL TEAM: The team started slowly but finished in fifth position in the Finals winning the last four games. The players showed their power by winning three games in the Loyola High School Tournament in Chicago in November. Most Valuable Player was Dave Lee, the team's leading scorer.

MIDGET MAJORS: Another successful year for this team with a 26 wins, 16 losses and 2 ties. It reached the Quarter-Finals in a 30 team Ottawa International Midget Tournament and reached the Semifinals with three wins and 1 loss in the Drummondville Tournament. Joe Heeney was voted the Most Valuable Player.

MINOR MIDGET MAJORS: The team placed second overall in it's nine team league with 41 wins, 9 losses and 9 ties. They won the Guelph International Tournament at Christmas and reached the Finals in the M.T.H.L. but lost in five games. His excellent performance on the ice and his fine leadership qualities won Doug Clarke the title of Most Valuable Player.

BANTAMS: This team finished in fifth position in it's nine team league losing only four of it's last sixteen games. They won the St. Louis International Tournament. Most Valuable Player was Ottavio DiSanto because he best exemplified the confident spirit which the club gradually developed.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

Mr. Paul Dignan (Coach), Ken Kubecka, Mike Gagliardi, Joe Alvarez, Mike Pullella, Brian Cato, Luciano Scatozza, George Papadakos, Paul Cobban, Louis Correia, Matt Marren, Mike Zahra, Greg Rupik, Peter Reitmeier (Mgr.). Absent: Carlo Salvadori.

BANTAM TEAM: The team placed first in a league of sixteen teams with 26 wins, 2 losses and 28 ties. Besides being League Champions, the Bantams were Finalists in the George Harvey Tournament, Tournament Champions at St. Robert's Tourney in Thornhill and Tournament Champions at Runneymede Tourney. Mike Gagliardi was selected as Most Valuable Player.

JUNIOR TEAM: This team also placed first in their league of twelve teams with 27 wins and 8 losses. And defeating St. Basil's 67-37 in quarter-finals, Neil McNeil 49-33 in semifinals and Chaminade 60-51 they became the T.D.C.A.A. Champions. They also won the All-Ontario Junior Catholic Tournament in Hamilton and the Consolation Championship in the Runneymede Tourney. Tony Melo was voted the Most Valuable Player.

SENIOR TEAM: Not to be outdone by the other teams the Seniors also placed first in their league of nine teams with 28 wins, 11 losses and no ties. They were declared T.D.C.A.A. Champions with 17 wins and only 1 loss and were ranked fourth in Metro. They were Finalists in the York Tournament and participants in the Metro Regional Tournament. Gino Saccone and Greg Hook both Co-Captains also shared in the Most Valuable Player Award.

SOCCER ACTION

BANTAM SOCCER: This young and inexperienced team played it's season with great determination and spirit. The players learned how to play as a team and can boast of scoring two of five goals scored against O'Connor, a team with nine wins and one loss during the regular season. Captain Tony Barozzino was voted Most Valuable Player.

JUNIOR SOCCER: The team began the season in a blaze of glory winning their first five games and tieing their sixth. Then due to bad weather and the students' preoccupation with exams the tide turned. The Juniors placed fifth in an eight team division. A halfback with a powerful shot, Giancarlo Lista was chosen Most Valuable Player.

SENIOR SOCCER: The Seniors completed their season in second place among ten other teams with 11 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie. In a game with the other division's Champions, St. Basil's, St. Mikes came up with a 3-0 win. The Most Valuable Player award was shared by two exceptional players, Louis Aleixo and Frank Minchella.

VOLLEYBALL ACTION

With a record of 34 wins 11 losses and 40 ties the Senior Volleyball Team captured first place in the T.D.C.A.A. after some very stiff competition supplied by six other teams. In meeting the strong Chaminade team in the semifinals, the team lost the first two games but demonstrated typical SMC determination by winning the next three games. Cardinal Newman was firmly beaten in an exciting afternoon of Volleyball by three games to one. Because of both his offensive and defensive ability Greg Hook was selected as the Most Valuable Player.

JUNIOR TEAM

ST. MICHAEL'S

WALKS FOR LIFE

About two hundred students and faculty from St. Michael's came together to celebrate a Community Mass together and then joined the thousands of other concerned people at Queen's Park to show our solidarity behind the Pro-Life Movement. By celebrating Life together we denounced the scandal of our government's pro-abortion stance.

PROJECT '80

Many collections and raffles were held to raise funds for the various charities covered by Project '80 but this year saw two original efforts - Home room 12 B's car wash and 12 E's used book sale.

GRADUATION

Graduation was conducted with a heavy burden of sorrow. Just days before the ceremony two Grads, Bruno Guerriero and Mario Morra were drowned in an end-of-school camping outing.

Even though the profound shock and deep sadness was felt throughout the day, nevertheless the joys of graduation, the congratulations and family get-togethers went on.

A change of format proved most successful by having the distribution of diplomas and prizes in Holy Rosary Church immediately after the celebration of the Eucharist. His Excellency, Bishop Clune officiated and William Spence, the Valedictorian, eloquently put the sentiments of the Class of '80 beautifully into focus. Music was provided by Fr. C. Zinger, Mr. J. Guerriere, Andrew McKenna and the Choir. The Parents' Guild provided refreshments in the school cafeteria to conclude the ceremony.

MARIO M. MORRA

BRUNO GUERRIERO

IN MEMORY OF MARIO AND BRUNO

The Faith and Hope of the Class of '80 was severely challenged by the sudden deaths of two of its members just days before the Graduation Ceremony.

Two good friends throughout the school year who enjoyed the thrills of playing football together and who frequently worked together to master the academic requirements of Grade X111, they were called upon to confront the mystery of death together. At the very threshold of their adulthood, the Father of All who created them called them to Himself. Now, death is no longer a mystery to them and God's creative purpose has been realized for them. Mario and Bruno have graduated not merely from High School but from the day-to-day life as we now experience it to the glorious life of the Resurrection. Although the terrible pain of loss to parents, families and friends can only be healed with the passage of time there does remain the consolation of our Christian conviction that beyond the Cross there is the Resurrection and the Life.

The high regard for Mario and Bruno held by both faculty and students was much in evidence in the large attendance at both Funeral Masses.

We pray that both these young men share fully in the Joy and Peace the Lord has in store for those who believe in Him. They will long be remembered in our love.
